¡GRACIAS POR TU GENEROSIDAD!

From Pope Benedict XVI's Catechesis on St. Paul (August 27, 2008):

The voyage to Rome involved putting in at the Mediterranean islands of Crete and Malta, and then the cities of Syracuse, Rhegium Calabria and Puteoli. The Roman Christians went down the Appian Way to meet him at the Appii Forum (about 70 km from the capital), and others went as far as Three Taverns (c. 40 km). In Rome he met the delegates of the Jewish community, whom he told that it was for "the hope of Israel" that he was in chains (Acts 28: 20). However, Luke's account ends with the mention of two years spent in Rome under mild military surveillance. Luke mentions neither a sentence of Caesar (Nero) nor, even less, the death of the accused...

In this brief list of Paul's journeys it suffices to note how dedicated he was to proclaiming the Gospel, sparing no energy, confronting a series of grave trials, of which he left us a list in the Second Letter to the Corinthians (cf. 11: 21-28). Moreover, it is he who writes: "I do it all for the sake of the Gospel" (1 Cor 9: 23), exercising with unre-served generosity what he called "anxiety for the Churches" (2 Cor 11: 28). We see a commitment that can only be explained by a soul truly fascinated by the light of the Gospel, in love with Christ, a soul sustained by profound conviction; it is necessary to bring Christ's light to the world, to proclaim the Gospel to all of us. This seems to me to be what remains for us from this brief review of St Paul's journeys: to see his passion for the Gospel and thereby grasp the greatness, the beauty, indeed the deep need of the Gospel for all of us. Let us pray the Lord who caused St Paul to see his light, who made him hear his word and profoundly moved his heart, that we may also see his light, so that our hearts too may be moved by his Word and thus that we too may give the light of the Gospel and the truth of Christ to today's world which thirsts for it.

De la catequesis del Papa Benedicto XVI sobre San Pablo (27 de agosto de 2008):

El viaje a Roma tocó las islas mediterráneas de Creta y Malta, y después las ciudades de Siracusa, Reggio Calabria y Pozzuoli. Los cristianos de Roma salieron a recibirle en la vía Apia hasta el Foro de Apio (a unos 70 kilómetros al sur de la capital) y otros hasta las Tres Tabernas (a unos 40 kilómetros). En Roma tuvo un encuentro con los delegados de la comunidad judía, a quienes explicó que llevaba sus cadenas por "la esperanza de Israel" (cf. Hch 28, 20). Pero la narración de san Lucas concluye mencionando los dos años que pasó en Roma bajo una blanda custodia militar, sin mencionar ni una sentencia de César (Nerón) ni mucho menos la muerte del acusado...

Por ahora, en este breve elenco de los viajes de san Pablo, es suficiente tener en cuenta que se dedicó al anuncio del Evangelio sin ahorrar energías, afrontando una serie de duras pruebas, que él mismo enumera en la segunda carta a los Corintios (cf. 2 Co 11, 21-28). Por lo demás, él mismo escribe: "Todo esto lo hago por el Evangelio" (1 Co 9, 23), ejerciendo con total generosidad lo que él llama "la preocupación por todas las Iglesias" (2 Co 11, 28). Su compromiso sólo se explica con un alma verdaderamente fascinada por la luz del Evangelio, enamorada de Cristo, un alma sostenida por una convicción profunda: es necesario llevar al mundo la luz de Cristo, anunciar el Evangelio a todos. Me parece que la conclusión de esta breve reseña de los viajes de san Pablo puede ser: ver su pasión por el Evangelio, intuir así la grandeza, la hermosura, es más, la necesidad profunda del Evangelio para todos nosotros. Oremos para que el Señor, que hizo ver su luz a san Pablo, que le hizo escuchar su palabra, que tocó su corazón íntimamente, nos haga ver también a nosotros su luz, a fin de que también nuestro corazón quede tocado por su Palabra y así también nosotros podamos dar al mundo de hoy, que tiene sed de ellas, la luz del Evangelio y la verdad de Cristo.
